COMMENTS IN SUPPORT OF
 NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Cumulus Licensing Corp. ("Cumulus"), licensee of WHLZ (FM), Channel 223C, Manning, South Carolina, by its undersigned attorney and in response to the Commission's Notice of Proposed Rule Making in the above-captioned proceeding (released June 8, 2001) (the "NPRM"), hereby files these Comments in support of the NPRM's proposal to reallocate Channel 223C from Manning, South Carolina to Moncks Corner, South Carolina, and to modify the license of WHLZ (FM) to specify Moncks Corner as its community of license.

Discussion

1. Cumulus commenced this proceeding on March 30, 2001 with its filing of a Petition for Rule Making requesting that the Commission initiate a proceeding to amend the FM Table of Allotments as proposed in the NPRM. Cumulus demonstrated in its Petition that the proposed change in WHLZ (FM)'s community of license would not only comply with the Commission's technical requirements, but would also enable Cumulus to provide the community of Moncks Corner with its first full-time aural transmission service and first FM radio station while not depriving Manning of full-time aural transmission service. In addition, the proposed change would deprive no listeners of existing reception service since the reallocation proposal does not involve a transmitter site change.

2. In response to Cumulus' Petition, the Commission instituted the instant rule making proceeding to more fully consider Cumulus' proposal. Cumulus hereby incorporates herein by reference its Petition previously filed in this proceeding and reiterates its expression of interest in the reallocation of Channel 223C from Manning to Moncks Corner, South Carolina and the modification of the WHLZ (FM) license to specify operation at Moncks Corner. If the proposal set forth in this proceeding is adopted, Cumulus will expeditiously submit a minor change application for a construction permit specifying the new facility at its currently authorized transmitter site and, once its construction permit is granted, will proceed promptly to file an application for a covering license for the station licensed to Moncks Corner.

3. In the NPRM, it was requested that Cumulus provide additional information on the community status of Moncks Corner. The Commission has held that "examples of objective indications of community status include the existence of political, commercial, social and religious organizations and services in the community."

Implementation of BC Docket No. 80-90 to Increase the Availability of FM Broadcast Assignments, 5 FCC Rcd 934 (1990). Moncks Corner is the county seat of Berkeley County, South Carolina. The Ninth Circuit Court for the State of South Carolina and the Berkeley County Court sit in Moncks Corner, and other agencies of the Berkeley County government are situated in Moncks Corner. Moncks Corner is governed by a mayor and town council, the offices of which are located in the Moncks Corner town hall. (See Attachment A) Moncks Corner also has its own police and fire departments and a post office. (See Attachment A) The Berkeley County Library and the Berkeley Museum are among the cultural institutions located in Moncks Corner. (See Attachment B) The First Baptist Church, the Moncks Corner Seventh Day Adventist Church and the Mepkin Abbey are among more than a dozen churches and other religious establishments in Moncks Corner. (See Attachment C) There are four elementary schools (Berkeley Elementary, Berkeley Intermediate, H. E. Bonner Elementary and Whitesville Elementary), two middle schools (Berkeley Middle and Macedonia Middle), and one high school (Berkeley High) in Moncks Corner. (See Attachment D) Commercial establishments in Moncks Corner include several banks and other financial institutions, hotels and motels, a number of restaurants, and numerous retail establishments. (See Attachment E) The Roper Berkeley Day Hospital and the Moncks Corner Medical Center are also located in Moncks Corner. (See Attachment E)

4. In the NPRM, the Allocations Branch also requested comment on whether the allotment of Channel 223C at WHLZ (FM)'s existing site, which is short spaced due to station WMYB (FM)'s use of Section 73.215 processing toward station WHLZ (FM), should be permitted. The proposed allotment of Channel 223C to Moncks Corner involves no technical change to the facilities of WHLZ (FM). While the station's transmitter site will continue to be short spaced to station WMYB (FM), station WMYB (FM) will continue to provide contour protection to station WHLZ (FM) in accordance with Section 73.215 of the Commission's Rules; no new short-spacing will be created and no existing short-spacing will be exacerbated. Consequently, the allotment of Channel 223C proposed in the Petition should be allowed. Albemarle and Indian Trail, North Carolina, MM Docket No. 99-240, DA 01-1660 (Allocations Branch; released July 13, 2001); Kankakee and Park Forest, Illinois, MM Docket No. 99-330, DA 01-700 (Allocations Branch; released March 23, 2001; Killeen and Cedar Park, Texas, 15 FCC Rcd 1945 (Allocations Branch 2000). See also, Newnan and Peachtree City, Georgia, 7 FCC Rcd 6307 (Allocations Branch 1992).

Conclusion

As Cumulus has previously demonstrated, grant of the proposal set forth in the NPRM will result in a preferential arrangement of allotments as it will permit WHLZ (FM) to provide a first full-time aural transmission service to Moncks Corner without depriving Manning of full-time transmission service or any listeners of existing reception service. Moreover, the proposal is consistent with all of the Commission's rules, regulations, and policies. For these reasons, Cumulus urges the Commission to adopt the NPRM's proposal to reallocate Channel 223C from Manning to Moncks Corner, South Carolina.

Respectfully submitted,

Berkeley Museum

 Moncks Corner, SC

Location Map

The Berkeley Museum is a 5600 state-of-the-art exhibit building and one of the most valuable historic assets as well as a fascinating facility that traces the area's history back 12,000 years. From the Ind residents of the Ice Age, to the famed "Swamp Fox" Francis Marion's battles during the Revolution, to the planters who settled the area, the Berkeley Museum provides an entertaining and lively perspective of Berkeley County's exciting history. In addition to the artifacts and displays, a research library and archives section is developed. A temporary gallery is used to display works of local artists and artisans. These exhibits typically run for a period of two months.

Also, the history of the CSS David, a semi-submersible torpedo boat, is displayed. The David was constructed during the Civil War on the park grounds when the area was known as Stony Landing. The Confederate torpedo-boat David made history on the night of October 5th, 1863 when it made the first ever torpedo attack on the Union ship the New Ironsides. A replica of the CSS David is located at the Berkeley Museum.

The Berkeley Museum sponsors "Living History Workshops". These are a series of broad-based interpretive programs stemming from research and the museum's collections. These programs are designed to examine the artifacts, lifeways and technologies of early cultures as they related to the natural resources available to participants. In the workshops, participants learn first-hand how their ancestors dealt with a variety of issues and needs of everyday life. These workshops are for ages 18 and older. Special events are scheduled on a regular basis for the education and entertainment of the entire community. Additional educational programs are currently being developed in cooperation with the Berkeley County School System.

The Museum is located on Stony Landing Road in Moncks Corner, adjacent to the Old Santee Canal Park. The $2.50 per person admission to the park includes your visit to the Berkeley Museum. Groups of ten or more should call ahead for reservations. The park and the museum are open Monday through Saturday from 9 am - 5:00 pm and on Sunday from 1:00 pm - 5:00 pm.

Mepkin Abbey A Cistercian (Trappist) monastery near Charleston, S.C.

By Abbot Francis Kline, O.C.S.O.
1098 Mepkin Abbey Road
Moncks Corner, S.C.

Think for a moment of a tree. Old and yet ever made new by the fresh life-giving water of a river on whose ridge stands that flourishing tree. Is it a tree in our day that somehow faintly suggests the "tree of life" of Genesis: "A river flowed from Eden to water the garden?" The tree's roots reach out invisibly, persistently to satisfy their thirst, and the heart of that tree rejoices. Life! A tree named "Mepkin." Strange word, a word given to a garden by native Americans perhaps 5,000 years ago. What does it mean? Experts say the meaning is: "serene and lovely." But serenity and loveliness are never enough unto themselves. They're only the visible flowering out of a deeper glory: Life. Yes, rivers do truly marvelous things.

"Yes they do," reply staunch South Carolinians, who in unguarded moments of enthusiasm are said to exclaim of their two most favored rivers: "Why, the Cooper and the Ashley meet at Charleston to form the Atlantic ocean!" Don't dare ask them: "But how can two tiny rivers produce the mighty Atlantic?" (They know 'tis so.) Mepkin is on the Cooper.

About the Indians who first called this land "Mepkin," we know little. But of Henry Laurens we know much: his blood line, still extant; his love for America and Mepkin. Laurens was a patriot, when patriotism was a badge of honor. Born in Charleston in 1724, he engaged in commerce and in the cultural development of South Carolina. He acquired possessions of Mepkin before the Revolution, and served as President of the Continental Congress (1777-1778). "The USA's first President!" claim some historians. He died at Mepkin in 1792, and with other members of his family, is buried at Mepkin.

Despite the vast changes in his beloved America in the two centuries since his death, his equally beloved Mepkin has retained its distinct identity. As in his own time, this noble property is still a place of pine woodlands, wetlands and ancient live oaks adorned with the mysterious beauty of flowing Spanish moss. The land as such is preserved in its original integrity -- not split into parcels that would only mar its pristine integrity; not subjected to the whims of business exploitation; not sundered utterly from a past that contained this future we witness now. Tradition is more than "the good old days." There is a nobility that is inseparable from the lives and loves and faith of our forebears, and that spirit enlivens the very soil on which they lived and loved and believed. It endures.
